

CHAPTER 5: DIFFICULT POINTS IN SECRET MANTRA

Tibetan: བྱାନ୍‌ମନ୍‌ତ୍ରାଣ୍ଜି (Fifth Lecture Hall)

Location: Volume 1, Sections 01-05-01-01 through 01-05-05-01

Tibetan Lines: 4172-6764

Total Liturgical Lines: ~2,935

This chapter marks a significant shift from the philosophical analysis of Chapter 4 into the practical domain of Vajrayāna practice. Having established the deficiencies of philosophical views alone, Longchenpa now presents the Secret Mantra path as the swift method for realizing the nature of mind.

SECTION BREAKDOWN

Section 1: 01-05-01-01.txt (118 lines)

Topic: Fivefold Classification of Tantras

This opening section establishes the hermeneutical framework for interpreting esoteric teachings. Longchenpa explains the distinction between: - Tantra of Meaning (don gyi rgyud): Mind itself, naturally clear light - Tantra of Words (tshig gi rgyud): The indicating basis through names, words, letters

The section presents the creation sequence (bskyed rim) with ten chief elements (empowerment, samaya, deity, mantra, maṇḍala, offering, samādhi, conduct, activity, view) and the completion sequence (rdzogs rim) with eight elements (view, fruition, conduct, meditation, mind, wisdom, experience, instruction). These combine in non-dual union for a total of eighteen essential points.

Key Technical Terms: - Indicated method tantra (brtag bya thabs kyi rgyud) - Indicating method tantra (brtag byed thabs kyi rgyud) - Nature tantra (rang bzhin rgyud) - Basis, essence, and quintessence nature tantras

Section 2: 01-05-02-01.txt (384 lines)

Topic: Detailed Presentation of Tantra Types

This extensive section covers: 1. Indicated Method Tantra - The basis of emptiness and clarity 2. Indicating Method Tantra - The instruction of awareness realization 3. Nature Tantra - Basis, path, and fruition gathered in awareness

Major Subsections: - The Three Keys (lus sgo yul gyi gnad): Body, door, and object keys - The Three Clear Aspects (gsal ba rnam gsum): Clear, stable, and empty - The Three Non>Returns (phyir mi ldog pa gsum): No return to delusion - The Three Appearances (snang ba gsum): Dimension, awareness, dharmatā - The Three Emptinesses (stong pa gsum): Empty of elaboration

Seventeen Tantras: The section culminates in a presentation of the seventeen Great Perfection tantras, divided into: - Eight root tantras (sudden sound) - Six explanatory tantras (auspicious beauty) - Three intention tantras (six spaces)

Scripture Citations: Pearl Garland, Continuation of Buddha Tantras, Diligent Meaning-Possessing Tantra, Vajra-Sky-Equality Tantra, Supreme Golden Light

READING GUIDANCE

For Practitioners: This chapter requires familiarity with the nine vehicles presented in Chapter 4. Pay special attention to: - The distinction between creation and completion stages (Sections 1-2) - The purpose of each tantra category (Section 3) - The progression from lower tantras to Great Perfection (Section 4) - The importance of empowerment and qualified gurus (Section 7)

For Scholars: Note Longchenpa's systematic hermeneutics: - The fivefold grounding provides an interpretive framework - The twenty-eight similes demonstrate pedagogical sophistication - The detailed enumeration of tantras shows encyclopedic knowledge - The structure moves from general classification to specific practices

Critical Points: 1. Without proper empowerment, tantric practice is ineffective (Section 7)
2. The Great Perfection transcends yet includes all lower vehicles (Section 4)
3. The guru-disciple relationship is paramount throughout
4. The ultimate nature is beyond elaboration yet expressed through skillful means
